POINT AND COUNTERPOINT

That thick and thin Republican party organ at Columbus, the Ohio State Journal, is unhappy because President Taft has declared in favor of the return of Senator Dick to the U. S. senate.

"The people of Ohio will not accept with good grace President Taft's suggestion that Senator Dick be returned to the U. S. senate, and if that advice is sufficiently urged the Republican party will suffer for it," says the Journal in a burning editorial.

Let the Journal be calm. President Taft has done nothing yet which the people of Ohio could accept with good grace, and the Republican party cannot possibly suffer more from any advice he may give hereafter than it will from advice he has already given.

"Senator Dick's attitude on the great issues of the past two years has not commended itself to the people of Ohio," says the Journal in the same burning editorial.

And yet Senator Dick's attitude on the great issues of the past few years seems to compare quite favorably with the attitude of that other great statesman, Theodore Burton, whom the Journal did all in its power to have sent to the U. S. senate as a proper exponent of the Republican party in Ohio.

"If he has not favored the measures demanded by the interests, his opposition has been so faint as not to make his presence felt," says the Journal of Dick in the same burning editorial.

And yet Dick has done about as well as his fellow senator, Mr. Burton, has done in that respect. The votes of both senators on the new tariff bill show that Mr. Burton's opposition was so faint as not to make his presence felt and that he voted with Aldrich almost as many times as Dick did.

"What Ohio wants is a man who is a friend of the people, a man of positive faith, a man who is the real thing in the ranks of progress," says the Journal in the same burning editorial. That is the kind of a man Ohio will have if people will only make sure of a Democratic majority in both branches of the next legislature. Burton is abundant proof that nothing better can be expected if the legislature is Republican, for if not Dick it may be Herlick, or Brother Charles, or just as bad, or worse.

If the people of Ohio really want anything better let them elect a Democratic legislature next time.

SUGAR TRUST GETS IN BAD ONCE MORE

Government to Begin Investigation at New Orleans.

Washington, April 7.—The American Sugar Refining company, the so-called sugar trust, is to be taken to task once more by the United States government. This time the scene of the federal attack is to be shifted from New York to New Orleans.

High officials here admit they do not know just what may be the outcome of the proceedings at New Orleans, it was said, but that the government intends to demand the books of the sugar trust there and, if necessary, to make just as thorough investigation there as they did in New York city in uncovering the frauds amounting to millions of dollars.

Winfred T. Denison of New York, who rendered valuable assistance to Henry L. Stimson, the government's special prosecutor in the sugar cases, is on his way to New Orleans. The government thinks it knows a way to make the sugar trust show its records. Mr. Denison, it was said, will attempt to convince the trust officials that they should be good and show their books. If they do not recognize the force of his arguments he will resort to the use of subpoenas and will ask the federal grand jury now in session in New Orleans to make trust officials give the information desired.

Following the discoveries at the New York investigation the government began investigating at other ports where sugar came in. At New Orleans, in ordinary course of events, it asked the sugar company to give up its records for inspection. The sugar company refused, contending that there was nothing to interest the government in the books. The government thought it over and decided that it wanted to be shown.
